The chapel at the heart of the dale

The chapel at the heart of the dale,
the chapel with the dale at its heart stands for the dreams and generosity of those who worked hard at the start, and the longstanding dedication year after faithful year of those who have served and worshipped ensuring the chapel is here.

The chapel at the heart of the dale,
the chapel with the dale at its heart space for baptism, wedding and funeral, for souls to arrive, and combine, and depart, and for the village to mark special moments
year after faithful year to celebrate show and safari thankful the chapel is here.

The chapel at the heart of the dale,
the chapel with the dale at its heart in this place of exceptional beauty in the Yorkshire Dales National Park place for bird-watcher, artist and walker
year after faithful year to delight in God's splendid creation to be grateful the chapel is here.

The chapel at the heart of the dale,
the chapel with the dale at its heart refreshed with a new sense of purpose and some wonderful underfoot art now we can stand in the dale in the chapel
year after faithful year see where we've been. or are going celebrate God's world in here.

May God's love be at the heart of the chapel, with dale underfoot and beyond love glimpsed in the Cove and the Tarn love echoed in scripture and song may all who enter be welcome
year after faithful year
find quietness, and questions, and comfort, be blessed through the chapel being here.

Poem written by Revd Nick Blundell for the rededication of Malham Chapel.
